SHORT COURSE DETAILS

1.0   Name of Series

N/A

2.0   Name of Course

Giving Effective Feedback

3.0   Synopsis of Course (60-word limit)

Giving effective feedback is a critical component of the teaching and learning process; teachers need effective feedback when implementing lessons whilst students especially, need it to keep them motivated and engaged. This topic will cover how feedback is provided efficiently, when it is offered and what is considered in the feedback given.

4.0   For Whom?

- Faculty
- Course developers
- Faculty development professionals

5.0   Course Outcomes

- How do we give effective feedback
- When should we give feedback
- How do we give feedback efficiently and save ourselves time

6.0   Delivery Mode

Workshop with discussions and hands on activities

7.0   Duration of Course

A 3-hours session

8.0   Level of Course & Microcredential Credit Value, if any

-

9.0   Course Outline

- Introduction to giving effective feedback
- The when and how of providing effective feedback

- Giving feedback efficiently and saving ourselves time

10.0   Short Bio of Trainer/s (50-word limit)

Dr Jennifer Tan holds a PhD in Applied Linguistics and a Master in English Language Studies. She has taught English and Applied Linguistics courses at tertiary level as well as conducted workshops in teacher training and professional development, both locally and in the neighboring East Asian and South East Asian countries.